Climate Change and Environment: Understanding the Impact on Paediatric Practice to Secure our Children's Future

CONFERENCE RESOLUTIONS

Pride Inn Paradise Hotel, Shanzu-Mombasa

Tue 25th April - Fri 28th April 2023

Resolution 1

We recognize the critical need for evidence-based advocacy, policymaking, research, innovation, and technology to safeguard children's health in the face of climate change.

We commit to actively engage in evidence-based advocacy, policymaking, research, innovation, and technology to protect children from the impact of climate change. This should include translating research findings into policies and incorporating them into the management of patients.

Resolution 2

We recognize that we are a critical component of the ONE Health approach toward achieving mutual prosperity for the planet. We commit to collaborating with policymakers, county governments, non-governmental organizations, international organizations, research institutions, schools, and pharmaceutical companies to develop innovative ways to tackle our challenges together and promote mutual prosperity for the planet.

Resolution 3

We recognize that as paediatricians, we must keep our knowledge base current and up-to-date by regularly consulting the available evidence and best practices that relate to child health and climate change.

We commit to generating new evidence and disseminating evidence-based updates to our members by providing them with regular knowledge updates on climate change and its impact on child health.

Resolution 4

We acknowledge that our strength as paediatricians lies in our ability to collect comprehensive patient history and perform a thorough examination. Our patients provide us with valuable information that helps us develop the best possible solution for their needs.

We commit to prioritizing a good history and examination in clinical practice, recognizing that our patients' contribution of the puzzle pieces is critical in helping us inform their diagnosis and treatment.

Resolution 5

We recognize that investing in human resources and training is crucial for the development of paediatricians, including fellowship programs, short courses, and mentorship for the younger generation.

We commit to advocating for investments in Human resources for health through training, short courses, and mentorship to enhance the capacity and skills of paediatricians in the face of the challenges posed by climate change.

Resolution 6

We recognize that the mental health of child health workers is essential, and it is vital to take care of ourselves to be in the right position to help our patients.

We commit to prioritizing self-care for our members and raising awareness of the importance of mental health for child health workers
